St Justin Martyr’s Letter to the Pagan Emperor Antoninus Pius (c. AD 155)

In this letter St Justin explains the worship of the Christians.

On the day we call the day of the sun, all who dwell in the city or country gather in the same place. The memoirs of the apostles and the writings of the prophets are read, as much as time permits. When the reader has finished, he who presides over those gathered admonishes and challenges them to imitate those beautiful things.

Then we all rise together and offer prayers for ourselves... and for all others, wherever they may be... Then someone brings bread and a cup of water and wine mixed together to him who presides over the brethren. He takes them and offers praise and glory to the Father of the universe, through the name of the Son and of the Holy Spirit...

When he has concluded the prayers and thanksgivings, all present give voice to an acclamation by saying: Amen. When he who presides has given thanks and the people have responded, those whom we call deacons give to those present the eucharisted bread, wine and water and take them to those who are absent.

1 Read St Justin’s description carefully.
Can you match the parts of this ancient Eucharist to the parts of the modern Eucharist?

Record your findings in a table like the one below.

Now
as they were eating, Jesus took some bread, and when he had said the blessing he broke it & gave it to the disciples. 'Take and eat,' he said 'this is my body.' Then he took a ~ cup, & when he had returned thanks he gave it to them. 'Drink all of you from this,' he said
'for this is my blood, the blood of the covenant which is to be poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins. From now on, I tell you, I shall not drink wine until ~ the day I drink the new wine with you in the kingdom of my Father.' Matthew
26:26-29

For this is what I received from the Lord, & in turn passed on to you: that on the ~ same night that he was betrayed, the ~ Lord Jesus took some bread, & thanked God for it & broke it, and he ~~ said, 'This is my body, which is for you; do this as a memorial of me.'
In the same way he took the
sup after supper, & ~ said, 'This cup ~
is the new covenant in my blood. Whenever you drink it, do
this as a memorial
of me.'
Until~
the Lord
comes therefore, every time
you eat this bread &
drink this cup, you are proclaiming his death, & so anyone who eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord unworthily will be behaving unworthily towards the body & blood of the Lord. 1Corinthians 11: 26 - 29

When they drew near to the village to which they were going, he made as if to go on; but they pressed him to stay with them. 'It is nearly evening' they said 'and the day is almost over.' So he went in to stay with them. Now while he was with them at table, he took the bread and said the blessing; then he broke it and handed it to them. And their eyes were opened and they recognised him; but he had vanished from their sight. Then they said to each other, 'Did not our hearts burn within us as he talked to us on the road and explained the scriptures to us?'
They set out that instant and returned to Jerusalem. There they found the Eleven assembled together with their companions, who said to them, 'Yes, it is true. The Lord has risen and has appeared to Simon.' Then they told their story of what had happened on the road and how they had recognised him at the breaking of bread.

The early Christian community These remained faithful to the teaching of the apostles, to the brotherhood, to the breaking of bread and to the prayers.
The many miracles and signs worked through the apostles made a deep impression on everyone.
The faithful all lived together and owned everything in common; they sold their goods and possessions and shared out the proceeds among themselves according to what each one needed.
They went as a body to the Temple every day but met in their houses for the breaking of bread; they shared their food gladly and generously; they praised God and were looked up to by everyone.
Day by day the Lord added to their community those destined to be saved.
